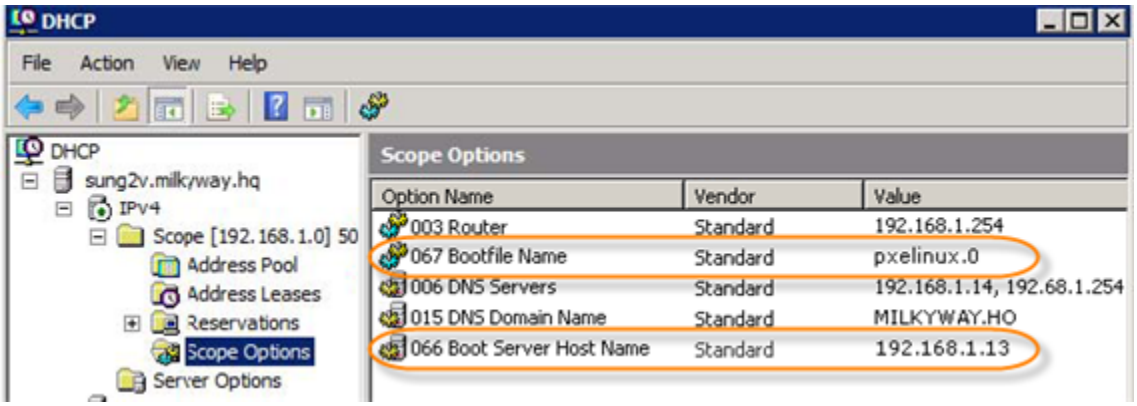
Configuring DHCP Server on Windows

To use PXE Network Boot, you need a working DHCP server, TFTP server, and NFS server (Prerequisites for Using PXE Network Boot). DHCP needs to be configured to supply the PXE enabled host with the TFTP host and the boot file name.


Using Windows DHCP, you would add scope option 066 and 067.